One of the UK's top clairvoyant mediums will be returning to an award-winning hotel as part of a busy line-up of excellent events next year.

2020 is shaping up to feature a whole host of top talent at Coombe Abbey Hotel as the programme of entertainment is already looking packed.

It will feature medium Steve Holbrook, who will be returning to the venue in April and November with his Between Two Worlds show, after a hugely successful debut this year.

Also, back by popular demand will be Britain's Got Talent finalists, the D-Day Darlings, when guests can enjoy afternoon tea in the marquee.

Songs from a bygone era will be performed by members of the group when Afternoon Tea with the D-Day Darlings goes ahead in March and November.

All the glitz and glamour of the races will be coming to Coombe Abbey when it hosts a Royal Ascot Ladies Days in June.

Going ahead in the marquee, a delicious lunch will be served up and all the action will play out live on the big screen. An on-site bookmaker will also be on hand to take bets and there will be a special performance from an Elvis tribute act.

One for the family will be David Walliams' Mr Stink, which will be going ahead in June and see Heartbreak Productions adapt the book into an outdoor theatre show.

A number of talented tribute acts will also be taking to the stage including Pure Queen in May and George Michael in September.

Not only that, the regular schedule including the Murder Mystery evenings, Mediaeval Banquets and the Speakeasy Blinders will be taking place throughout the year.

Ron Terry, General Manager of Coombe Abbey Hotel, said there was something on offer to cater for all tastes and urged people to book soon.

"This is just the start for 2020, but what a fantastic line-up it is already and we hope to see many visitors come along and enjoy the events," said Ron.

"Now is the perfect time to book tickets for next year's events and shows as they will make great Christmas presents for loved ones and friends.

"We have an exciting year planned at Coombe Abbey and everyone should keep their eyes peeled for details of more special events."
